Investigations Officer

Full-time or Part-time position

Ongoing contract with attractive salary

The Legal Profession Board of Tasmania (the Board) is the independent statutory authority established by the Legal Profession Act 2007, for the regulation of the legal profession in Tasmania. A major part of the Board's role is investigating, hearing and mediating complaints against legal practitioners in relation to unsatisfactory conduct and investigating and prosecuting legal practitioners in relation to professional misconduct. The Board is also responsible for monitoring and advising on standards of practice and conduct of the legal profession in Tasmania.

Investigations Officer:

Under the general direction of the Manager Operations, the Investigations Officer will investigate complaints against legal practitioners and prepare reports and recommendations for the Board in relation to the findings. Where appropriate, the Investigations Officer will attempt to resolve complaints by negotiation/mediation. The Investigations Officer may also be required to appear as an advocate in hearings before the Board and/or the Disciplinary Tribunal.

The Investigations Officer will also be required to contribute to the efficient operation of a small team.
